

Image Preprocessing

In this, we will pre-process the images which will be used for building the model. Image pre-processing includes zooming, shearing, flipping to increase the robustness of the model after it is built. We will be using the Keras package for pre-processing images.